In a few hours, a man, an American like him, will tread upon its soil. Philip and Tonja walk hand in hand silently along the admired banks of the Lieutenant Schmidt Bridge, each one lost in their own secret thoughts...

International Competition Feature Documentary Films

Giorgione from Castelfranco - Behind the Mystery	Antonello Belluco	52'	Italy	Documentary/ Fiction
---	-------------------	-----	-------	-------------------------

The docu-film is divided in two parts alternating and intertwining along the narration line: beside the film story, where events and characters are staged, there is a typically documentary-institutional in-depth examination carried out with a contribution by experts on Giorgione's work. The mystery of Giorgione's personality will be kept hidden, fading into a touch of beauty and disorientation.

iThemba (Hope)	Elinor Burkett	72'	Zimbabwe/ USA	Documentary

Through music, eight disabled Zimbabweans dare to hope.

Left by the Ship	Emma Rossi Landi and Alberto Vendemmiati	80'	Italy/USA/ Finland/ Philippines	Documentary

Two years in the life of four Filipino Amerasians, children of US servicemen and Filipino sex workers, as they struggle against social stigma, family problems and identity related issues, 18 years after the pullout of the US bases.

My Fancy High Heels	Ho Chao-ti	55'	China/Taiwan	Documentary

Filmed over a period of two years, this documentary traces the footsteps of a pair of name-brand high-heeled shoes, from the border of China and Russia to the streets of Manhattan, from an impoverished farm town and the bloody spectacle of slaughtered cows and skinned hides, to the fashionable, prosperous metropolis. In the spring, the hides of the calves have just been skinned, and the assembly-line worker meticulously touches up every last detail of the shoes. By winter, those tiny details can be seen on the feet of a fashionable woman in New York City.

Old Cinema - Bologna Melodrama	Davide Rizzo	60'	Italy	Documentary
---------------------------------------	--------------	-----	-------	-------------

Bologna, Italy. Film is dying. The last witnesses tell about its beginning.

Postcards From Le Havre	Françoise Poulin-Jacob	51'	France	Documentary
--------------------------------	------------------------	-----	--------	-------------

It is unusual to walk into an image of childhood. Le Havre's avenues and streets, its buildings, its shops, have the taste of my childhood. In Le Havre, things don't age: they get frozen in time. It shows the genius of Auguste Perret, who wanted to build the perfect city. This film is an invitation to travel through time as well as through this special city.

2011 I've Seen Films - Spazio Italia

Affari d'Acqua. Cronache dal'Idroscalo di Ostia	Kistiñe Cárcamo Aboitiz, Ciro Colonna, Valerio Serafini	54'	Italy	Documentary
--	---	-----	-------	-------------

'Idroscalo di Ostia', one of the first attempts at developing the aeronautic industry in Italy, quickly became one of many illegal settlements at the borders of Rome. The story of 'Idroscalo' is a common but difficult one to tell. It is the story of freedom and alienation, full of ambiguity.

Cielo senza terra (Heaven Without Earth)	Giovanni Maderna and Sara Pozzoli	124'	Italy	Documentary
---	-----------------------------------	------	-------	-------------

A father and his eight-year old child are climbing a mountain. The route they take, the nights in a tent and the open-air life they lead, provide moments of closeness and dialogue. While their journey continues, marked by encounters and discoveries in this increasingly natural landscape, father and son discuss other issues that seem to emerge from the past or suddenly bring them back to the daily routine of their life in the city: the occupation of a factory in Milan and the narration of the (mis)fortunes of a music producer in the Seventies.

Il loro Natale (Their Christmas)	Gaetano Di Vaio	73'	Italy	Documentary
---	-----------------	-----	-------	-------------

The everyday lives of Neapolitan women whose men are in jail. Burdened with housekeeping and childcare, they have yet another duty: caring for their husbands, who despite their forced absence, are present in every moment. Preparing the provisions packs, helping each other with the neighbors and getting ready for the weekly visit in jail.

Il Valzer dello Zecchino	Vito Palmieri	60'	Italy	Documentary
